Date: October 18th 2022

Starting Time: 10.00 am

Introduction:

On October 18th 2022, Sri Rangapoopathi College of Nursing organized a Nutrition and Diet Counseling Workshop aimed at providing education and guidance on healthy eating habits, nutrition, and diet management. The workshop was designed to equip participants with knowledge and skills to make informed dietary choices and promote overall health and well-being. Objectives:

- i. Educate participants about the importance of nutrition in maintaining good health and preventing diet-related diseases.
- ii. Provide information on essential nutrients, dietary guidelines, and recommended daily allowances for different age groups and lifestyles.
- iii. Raise awareness about common nutritional deficiencies, dietary imbalances, and their impact on health outcomes.
- iv. Offer practical tips and strategies for planning balanced meals, incorporating variety, and making healthier food choices.

Event Highlights:

1. Expert Presentations and Lectures:

- Registered dietitians, nutritionists, and healthcare professionals delivered presentations on various topics related to nutrition and diet counseling.
- Topics included the fundamentals of nutrition, macronutrients and micronutrients, dietary guidelines, and special dietary considerations for specific health conditions.

2. Interactive Workshops and Demonstrations:

- Hands-on workshops and cooking demonstrations were conducted to teach participants practical skills for meal planning, food preparation, and healthy cooking techniques.

- Participants engaged in interactive exercises, such as label reading, portion size estimation, and recipe modification, to enhance their nutrition knowledge and culinary skills.

3. Individual Diet Assessments and Counseling Sessions:

- Participants had the opportunity to undergo individual diet assessments and receive personalized diet counseling and recommendations from qualified nutrition professionals.
- Dietitians conducted one-on-one counseling sessions to address specific dietary concerns, health goals, and lifestyle factors, providing tailored nutrition advice and support.

4. Nutrition Education Materials and Resources:

- Informational materials, including brochures, handouts, and educational videos, were distributed to participants to reinforce key concepts and provide additional resources for further learning.
- Online resources and mobile applications were recommended to help participants track their dietary intake, set nutrition goals, and monitor progress towards healthier eating habits.

5. Follow-up Support and Evaluation:

- Participants were encouraged to follow up with dietitians and nutrition professionals for ongoing support, guidance, and monitoring of their nutrition and dietary progress.
- Post-workshop evaluations and surveys were conducted to assess participant satisfaction, knowledge retention, and behavior change outcomes to inform future workshops and program improvements.

Conclusion: The Nutrition and Diet Counseling Workshop by Sri Rangapoopathi College of Nursing provided valuable education, guidance, and support for participants to make informed dietary choices and improve their nutritional status. Through expert presentations, interactive workshops, and individualized counseling, participants gained practical skills and knowledge to support their health and well-being through optimal nutrition.

Acknowledgments: We extend our sincere appreciation to all participants, speakers, volunteers, and healthcare professionals who contributed to the success of the Nutrition and Diet Counseling Workshop. REPORT of Patient Assessment Skills Workshop

Venue: SRP Nursing Auditorium

Date: May 15th 2023

Starting Time: 10.00 am

Introduction:

On May 15th 2023, Sri Rangapoopathi College of Nursing conducted a Patient Assessment Skills Workshop aimed at enhancing the clinical skills and competencies of nursing students in conducting comprehensive patient assessments. The workshop provided participants with hands-on training and practical experience in performing systematic and thorough patient assessments to inform nursing care and decision-making.

Objectives:

- i. To develop participants understanding of the importance of patient assessment in nursing practice and the nursing process.
- ii. To familiarize participants with the components of a comprehensive patient assessment, including physical, psychosocial, and functional assessments.
- iii. To provide participants with practical skills and techniques for conducting thorough and accurate patient assessments in diverse clinical settings.
- iv. To enhance participants' communication skills and critical thinking abilities in gathering patient information, conducting interviews, and documenting assessment findings.

Event Highlights:

1. Lectures and Presentations:

- Experienced nursing faculty and clinical experts delivered lectures and presentations on the principles and importance of patient assessment in nursing practice.
- Topics covered included the nursing process, health assessment frameworks, interviewing techniques, and documentation standards.

2. Demonstrations and Skills Stations:

- Live demonstrations and skills stations provided participants with opportunities to observe and practice various assessment techniques, such as taking vital signs, conducting head-to-toe physical assessments, and assessing pain.

- Faculty members and clinical instructors provided guidance and feedback to participants as they practiced their assessment skills on simulated patients or mannequins.

3. Case Studies and Simulation Scenarios:

- Case studies and simulation scenarios were used to simulate real-world patient care situations and challenge participants to apply their assessment skills in clinical decision-making.
- Participants worked collaboratively in small groups to assess patient scenarios, prioritize nursing interventions, and formulate care plans based on assessment findings.

4. Interactive Discussions and Reflections:

- Interactive discussions and debriefing sessions encouraged participants to reflect on their assessment experiences, identify areas for improvement, and share insights and best practices with their peers.
- Facilitators guided discussions on ethical considerations, cultural competence, and interdisciplinary collaboration in patient assessment and care delivery.

5. Feedback and Evaluation:

- Participants received constructive feedback and evaluation from faculty members, clinical instructors, and peers on their performance during skills practice sessions and simulations.
- Post-workshop evaluations were conducted to assess participant satisfaction, knowledge acquisition, and confidence in patient assessment skills and identify opportunities for further training and support.

Conclusion: The Patient Assessment Skills Workshop by Sri Rangapoopathi College of Nursing provided nursing students with valuable opportunities to develop and refine their patient assessment skills in a supportive and experiential learning environment.

Acknowledgments: We extend our sincere appreciation to all participants, faculty members, clinical instructors, and support staff who contributed to the success of the workshop. Special thanks to the organizing committee for their dedication and efforts in planning and executing this educational event.

REPORT of Pediatric Nursing Seminar

Venue: Rangapoopathi College of Nursing Campus

Date: August 4th 2021

Starting Time: 10.00 am

Introduction:

On August 4th 2021, Sri Rangapoopathi College of Nursing hosted a Pediatric Nursing Seminar tailored for nursing teams to enhance their knowledge and skills in pediatric care. The seminar aimed to provide participants with updates on pediatric nursing practices, evidence-based interventions, and best practices in caring for pediatric patients. It served as a platform for nursing teams to exchange knowledge, share experiences, and collaborate to improve the quality of pediatric care delivery.

Objectives:

- i. To review the unique aspects of pediatric nursing, including growth and development, pediatric assessment, and family-centered care.
- ii. To explore evidence-based practices and guidelines for managing common pediatric health conditions, including respiratory infections, gastrointestinal disorders, and childhood immunizations.
- iii. To discuss the role of nursing teams in promoting health, preventing illness, and supporting pediatric patients and their families.
- iv. To provide participants with opportunities for professional development, networking, and collaboration with colleagues in pediatric nursing.

Event Highlights:

1. Keynote Presentations and Expert Talks:

- Keynote presentations by pediatric nursing experts and healthcare professionals covered topics such as pediatric assessment, growth and development milestones, and common pediatric health conditions.
- Expert talks provided insights into specialized areas of pediatric nursing, including neonatal care, pediatric oncology, and pediatric intensive care.

2. Case Studies and Interactive Discussions:

- Case studies and interactive discussions allowed nursing teams to apply their knowledge and critical thinking skills to real-world pediatric patient scenarios.
- Participants analyzed case studies, identified nursing interventions, and discussed best practices for managing pediatric patients with complex healthcare needs.

3. Hands-on Workshops and Skill-building Sessions:

- Hands-on workshops and skill-building sessions provided participants with practical training in pediatric assessment techniques, medication administration, and pediatric emergency management.
- Participants practiced skills such as pediatric vital signs assessment, pediatric medication calculations, and pediatric resuscitation techniques under the guidance of experienced instructors.

4. Parent Education and Family-centered Care:

- Sessions on parent education and family-centered care emphasized the importance of involving parents and caregivers in the care of pediatric patients.
- Participants learned strategies for communicating with parents, addressing their concerns, and supporting them in caring for their children's health and well-being.

5. Networking and Collaboration Opportunities:

- Networking sessions facilitated interactions and collaboration among nursing teams, allowing participants to share experiences, exchange ideas, and build professional connections in pediatric nursing.
- Participants had the opportunity to connect with pediatric nursing experts, mentors, and colleagues to discuss challenges, seek advice, and explore opportunities for collaboration.

Conclusion: The Pediatric Nursing Seminar for Nursing Teams by Sri Rangapoopathi College of Nursing provided nursing professionals with valuable insights, knowledge, and skills to enhance their pediatric nursing practice. Through keynote presentations, interactive discussions, hands-on workshops, and networking opportunities, participants gained confidence and competence in caring for pediatric patients and supporting their families. The seminar served as a platform for fostering collaboration, sharing best practices, and advancing excellence in pediatric nursing care.

Acknowledgments: We extend our sincere appreciation to all participants, speakers, instructors, sponsors, and partners who contributed to the success of the Pediatric Nursing Seminar. Report on Seminar on "critical care nursing"

On September 14, 2021

No of Participants: 83 (2nd year B.Sc Nursing)

On September 14, 2021, a seminar on "critical care nursing" was organized to provide nursing professionals and students with valuable insights into the specialized field of critical care. The seminar aimed to enhance knowledge and skills related to the care of patients with critical medical conditions.

The program was inaugurated in the presence of Thiru. R. Rangapoopathi, the Chairman of Sri Rangapoopathi Group of Institutions, Thiru. R P Sripathi, The Secretary of Sri Rangapoopathi Group of Institutions, Mrs. Menaga Gandhi, Principal Sri Rangapoopathi college of Nursing, HODs, Staff and 2nd year B.Sc Nursing students.

The seminar covered various critical medical conditions, such as sepsis, respiratory distress, and cardiac emergencies, with a focus on early recognition and interventions. Attendees were introduced to the fundamentals of critical care nursing, including the unique challenges and responsibilities involved in caring for critically ill patients.

Participants learned about advanced monitoring techniques used in critical care settings, including the interpretation of vital signs, laboratory values, and diagnostic tests. The importance of teamwork and collaboration among healthcare professionals in critical care units was emphasized, as effective communication is vital in these high-stress environments. The seminar addressed the ethical dilemmas often encountered in critical care and the emotional challenges faced by both patients and caregivers.

The Seminar on "Critical Care Nursing" was a valuable event that provided nursing professionals and students with essential knowledge and skills in the field of critical care. It aimed to improve the quality of care provided to critically ill patients and enhance the competence of critical care nurses.

Report on seminar on " Malaria and Dengue disease " on 7th January 2022.

No of Participants: 68 (4th year B.Sc Nursing)

On January 7, 2021, a seminar was organized to address two significant vector-borne diseases, Malaria and Dengue. The seminar aimed to raise awareness about these diseases, provide knowledge on their prevention and management, and promote community involvement.

The programme was inaugurated in the presence of Thiru. R. Rangapoopathi , the Chairman of Sri Rangapoopathi Group of Institutions, Thiru. R P Sripathi, The Secretary of Sri Rangapoopathi Group of Institutions, Mrs. Menaga Gandhi, Principal, Sri Rangapoopathi college of Nursing, HODs, Staff and 4th year Bsc. Nursing students

The seminar focused on preventive measures, such as the use of bed nets, insect repellents, and environmental control to reduce mosquito breeding sites. Participants were educated on the importance of community participation in prevention efforts. Early diagnosis is crucial for effective treatment. Attendees learned about the signs and symptoms of these diseases and the importance of seeking medical attention promptly.

Practical information was shared regarding the available treatments for Malaria and Dengue, including antimalarial drugs and supportive care for Dengue patients. The seminar encouraged attendees to take an active role in spreading awareness about these diseases in their communities and participating in efforts to eliminate mosquito breeding sites.

Attendees gained a comprehensive understanding of Malaria and Dengue, including their causes, symptoms, and the mosquito vectors responsible for their transmission.

The seminar served as an important platform to educate individuals about two significant vector-borne diseases. It emphasized the importance of prevention through community action, early detection, and timely treatment. By raising awareness and providing knowledge, the seminar aimed to contribute to the reduction of Malaria and Dengue cases.

REPORT of Mental Health First Aid Workshop

Venue: Rangapoopathi College of Nursing Campus

Date: June 22nd 2022

Starting Time: 10.00 am

Introduction:

On June 22nd 2022, Sri Rangapoopathi College of Nursing organized a Mental Health First Aid Workshop aimed at equipping participants with the knowledge and skills to provide initial support to individuals experiencing mental health crises or challenges. The workshop focused on promoting mental health literacy, reducing stigma, and empowering participants to recognize, respond to, and refer individuals in need of mental health support.

Objectives:

- i. To raise awareness about mental health issues, common mental disorders, and risk factors contributing to mental health crises.
- ii. To educate participants about the signs and symptoms of mental health problems and the importance of early intervention and seeking professional help.
- iii. To provide participants with practical skills and strategies for offering initial support and assistance to individuals experiencing mental health crises, such as depression, anxiety, suicidal ideation, or substance use disorders.
- iv. To facilitate open discussions and dialogue about mental health stigma, myths, and misconceptions and promote a culture of empathy, understanding, and acceptance.

Event Highlights:

1. Educational Presentations and Discussions:

- Expert speakers, including mental health professionals, psychologists, and counselors, delivered presentations on various mental health topics, including common mental disorders, warning signs, and crisis intervention techniques.
- Participants engaged in interactive discussions, case studies, and Q&A sessions to deepen their understanding of mental health issues and enhance their communication and listening skills.

2. Self-care and Well-being Workshops:

- Workshops on self-care and well-being were offered to help participants recognize the importance of self-care practices in maintaining their own mental health and resilience.
- Participants learned about stress management techniques, relaxation strategies, and self-care activities to enhance their well-being and prevent burnout in their caregiving roles.

3. Community Resources and Support Services:

- Informational sessions were conducted to introduce participants to local mental health resources, support services, and helplines available in their community.
- Participants received resource packets and handouts containing contact information for mental health organizations, crisis hotlines, and community support groups for future reference.

4. Participant Reflection and Feedback:

- Participants were invited to share their reflections and insights gained from the workshop and provide feedback on the content, format, and effectiveness of the training.
- Post-workshop evaluations were collected to assess participant satisfaction, learning outcomes, and intentions to apply the knowledge and skills gained in their personal and professional lives.

Conclusion: The Mental Health First Aid Workshop by Sri Rangapoopathi College of Nursing provided participants with valuable knowledge, skills, and resources to respond effectively to mental health crises and support individuals in distress. Through education, training, and community engagement, participants were empowered to play a proactive role in promoting mental health awareness, reducing stigma, and fostering supportive environments for mental well-being.

Acknowledgments: We extend our sincere appreciation to all participants, speakers, instructors, and volunteers who contributed to the success of the Mental Health First Aid Workshop. Report on “Importance of sanitation in the post-pandemic world”

On November 17th 2020

No of Participants: 68 (3rd year B.SC Nursing)

On November 17, 2020, a seminar was held to emphasize the “importance of sanitation in the post-pandemic world”. The primary goal of this seminar was to educate individuals and communities about the critical role sanitation plays in preventing the spread of diseases, particularly in the wake of the COVID-19 pandemic.

The program was inaugurated in the presence of Thiru. R. Rangapoopathi , the Chairman of Sri Rangapoopathi Group of Institutions, Thiru. R P Sripathi, The Secretary of Sri Rangapoopathi Group of Institutions, Mrs. Menaga Gandhi, Principal Sri Rangapoopathi college of Nursing, HODs, Staff and 3rd year B.Sc Nursing students.

The seminar acknowledged the unique challenges posed by the COVID-19 pandemic and how improved sanitation practices are vital in preventing the spread of viruses and diseases. Practical guidance was provided on how individuals can incorporate better sanitation practices into their daily routines, such as frequent handwashing, surface disinfection, and maintaining clean surroundings.

The importance of community-wide sanitation efforts was highlighted, including the need for clean public spaces, proper sewage disposal, and access to clean water. The seminar addressed the disparities in sanitation access, with a focus on ensuring that all communities, especially vulnerable populations, have access to clean and safe sanitation facilities.

The seminar served as a vital platform to educate individuals and communities about the critical role sanitation plays in preventing the spread of diseases, particularly in the post-pandemic era. The seminar aimed to promote the adoption of improved sanitation practices and to emphasize the importance of equitable access to sanitation facilities for all.

Report on Seminar on Cancer Diseases On 6th May 2021

No of Participants: 93 (2nd year Bsc. Nursing students)

A seminar on Cancer diseases was held on May 6, 2021 with the aim of raising awareness about this critical health issue. The event aimed to educate the local community about the importance of early detection and prevention of cancer, as well as the significance of regular screenings and self-examinations.

The programme was inaugurated in the presence of Thiru. R. Rangapoopathi , the Chairman of Sri Rangapoopathi Group of Institutions, Thiru. R P Sripathi, The Secretary of Sri Rangapoopathi Group of Institutions, Mrs. Menaga Gandhi, Principal Sri Rangapoopathi college of Nursing, HODs, Staff and 2nd year Bsc. Nursing students

The seminar commenced with an introduction to cancer, a disease characterized by the uncontrolled growth of cells. It was emphasized that cancer can occur in various parts of the body and takes on many different forms.

The diverse nature of cancer was explored, with an explanation of various types such as breast cancer, lung cancer, and prostate cancer. Each type was noted for its unique characteristics and specific treatments. The seminar delved into the factors contributing to the development of cancer. It was highlighted that certain behaviors like smoking and unhealthy diets can increase the risk of cancer. Additionally, the role of genetics and environmental factors in cancer risk was discussed.

The seminar covered various treatment options for cancer, including surgery, chemotherapy, and radiation therapy. It was noted that treatment approaches can vary based on the type and stage of cancer. While some cancers can be cured, others can be managed to extend a person's life.

The event ended with vote of thanks to all the participants and students and staff in organizing the event and making it successful.

Report on Pharmacology and Medication Administration

On December 18, 2019

No of Participants: 68 (2nd year B.SC Nursing)

A seminar on "Pharmacology and Medication Administration." The primary goal of this seminar was to provide healthcare professionals and nursing students with comprehensive knowledge and practical skills required for safe and effective medication administration.

The programme started by inauguration in the presence of Thiru. R. Rangapoopathi, the Chairman of Sri Rangapoopathi Group of Institutions, Thiru. R P Sripathi, The Secretary of Sri Rangapoopathi Group of Institutions, Mrs. Kanagalakshmi Principal Sri Rangapoopathi college of Nursing, HODs, Staff and 2nd year B.SC Nursing.

The seminar focused on developing essential skills for safe medication administration, including dosage calculations, medication reconciliation, and the "five rights" of medication administration. Practical sessions allowed participants to learn and practice medication administration techniques, including intravenous (IV) therapy, oral medications, and subcutaneous injections. Attendees learned about the critical role of patient education in medication management, ensuring patients understand their medications and their proper use.

The seminar equipped healthcare professionals and nursing students with essential knowledge and practical skills necessary for safe and effective medication administration. The seminar not only enhanced the participants' competence but also contributed to the promotion of improved medication safety and patient care within healthcare institutions.

REPORT of Respiratory Care and Ventilation Workshop

Venue: Rangapoopathi College of Nursing Campus

Date: December 24th 2019

Starting Time: 10.00 am

Introduction:

On December 24th 2019, Sri Rangapoopathi College of Nursing organized a Respiratory Care and Ventilation Workshop aimed at enhancing the knowledge and skills of nursing professionals in providing comprehensive respiratory care to patients with respiratory disorders. The workshop provided participants with theoretical knowledge, practical training, and hands-on experience in respiratory assessment, ventilator management, and respiratory support techniques.

Objectives:

- i. To review the anatomy and physiology of the respiratory system and common respiratory disorders encountered in clinical practice.
- ii. To discuss the principles of respiratory assessment, including physical examination, auscultation, and diagnostic tests.
- iii. To explore evidence-based practices and guidelines for ventilator management, including mechanical ventilation modes, settings, and troubleshooting.
- iv. To provide participants with practical skills and techniques for airway management, oxygen therapy, suctioning, and chest physiotherapy.

Event Highlights:

1. Lectures and Presentations:

- Expert speakers, including respiratory therapists, pulmonologists, and critical care nurses, delivered lectures and presentations on various aspects of respiratory care and ventilation.
- Topics covered included respiratory anatomy and physiology, common respiratory disorders, respiratory assessment techniques, and ventilator management principles.

2. Hands-on Training and Simulation Exercises:

- Hands-on training sessions provided participants with opportunities to practice respiratory assessment techniques, including lung auscultation, oxygen saturation monitoring, and arterial blood gas analysis.
- Simulation exercises allowed participants to experience realistic scenarios of respiratory distress, acute respiratory failure, and mechanical ventilation, and practice appropriate interventions and responses.

3. Ventilator Management Workshops:

- Ventilator management workshops focused on teaching participants how to set up and operate mechanical ventilators, adjust ventilator settings, and monitor patient responses.
- Participants practiced ventilator troubleshooting, alarm management, and ventilator weaning protocols under the guidance of experienced instructors.

4. Airway Management and Suctioning Demonstrations:

- Demonstrations on airway management techniques, including endotracheal intubation, tracheostomy care, and suctioning, were conducted to enhance participants' skills and confidence in managing airway emergencies.
- Participants learned proper techniques for suctioning, suction catheter selection, and infection control practices to prevent complications.

5. Case Studies and Critical Thinking Exercises:

- Case studies and critical thinking exercises challenged participants to apply their knowledge and skills in clinical decision-making and problem-solving related to respiratory care and ventilation.
- Participants worked collaboratively in groups to analyze case scenarios, prioritize interventions, and develop comprehensive care plans for patients with respiratory disorders.

Conclusion: The Respiratory Care and Ventilation Workshop by Sri Rangapoopathi College of Nursing provided nursing professionals with valuable knowledge, skills, and resources to deliver high-quality respiratory care and ventilation support to patients in various healthcare settings.

Acknowledgments: We extend our sincere appreciation to all participants, speakers, instructors, sponsors, and partners who contributed to the success of the Respiratory Care and Ventilation Workshop.

Date: June 15th 2020

Starting Time: 10.00 am

Introduction:

On June 15th 2020, Sri Rangapoopathi College of Nursing organized a Seminar on Nutrition Assessment Workshop for Nursing Professionals. The seminar aimed to enhance the knowledge, skills, and competencies of nursing professionals in nutrition assessment techniques, dietary counseling, and interventions to promote optimal health outcomes for patients. The workshop provided participants with evidence-based strategies, practical tools, and resources to conduct comprehensive nutrition assessments and develop individualized nutrition care plans.

Objectives:

- i. To review the principles of nutrition assessment, including dietary intake, anthropometric measurements, biochemical markers, and clinical indicators.
- ii. To explore evidence-based tools and methods for assessing nutritional status and identifying nutritional deficiencies and risk factors in patients.
- iii. To discuss the role of nursing professionals in conducting nutrition assessments, interpreting assessment findings, and collaborating with interdisciplinary team members to develop nutrition care plans.
- iv. To provide participants with practical skills and techniques for conducting thorough nutrition assessments, including dietary history-taking, nutrition screening, and physical examination.

Event Highlights:

1. Lectures and Presentations:

- Expert speakers, including registered dietitians, nutritionists, and nursing educators, delivered lectures and presentations on various aspects of nutrition assessment.
- Topics covered included nutrition screening tools, dietary assessment methods, nutritional risk factors, and interpreting assessment findings.

- Hands-on training sessions provided participants with opportunities to practice various pain management techniques and interventions, such as therapeutic touch, relaxation techniques, and distraction techniques.
- Participants engaged in role-plays and simulation exercises to simulate pain assessment scenarios and develop proficiency in using pain assessment tools and scales.

3. Interdisciplinary Collaboration and Case Studies:

- Interdisciplinary collaboration activities and case studies encouraged participants to work collaboratively with other healthcare professionals, such as physicians, physical therapists, and psychologists, in managing complex pain cases.
- Participants discussed case studies, formulated pain management plans, and explored interdisciplinary approaches to pain assessment and treatment.

4. Patient Education and Empowerment:

- Patient education and empowerment sessions focused on teaching participants how to effectively communicate with patients about pain, manage patient expectations, and involve patients in their pain management plans.
- Participants learned about the importance of patient-centered care, shared decision-making, and patient advocacy in promoting effective pain management outcomes.

5. Pain Management Resources and Tools Showcase:

- A showcase of pain management resources and tools, including pain assessment scales, patient education materials, and pain management guidelines, was organized to familiarize participants with available resources and tools for clinical practice.
- Participants had the opportunity to explore resources, ask questions, and gather information to support their pain management practice.

Conclusion: The Pain Management Techniques Workshop by Sri Rangapoopathi College of Nursing provided participants with valuable knowledge, skills, and resources to enhance their ability to assess and manage pain effectively in clinical practice. Through lectures, hands-on training, interdisciplinary collaboration, and patient education activities, participants gained confidence and competence in providing compassionate and comprehensive pain care to patients.

Acknowledgments: We extend our sincere appreciation to all participants, speakers, instructors, sponsors, and partners who contributed to the success of the Pain Management Techniques Workshop. Special thanks to the organizing committee for their dedication and efforts in planning and coordinating this important educational event.

REPORT of Nursing Research: Exploring Trends, Challenges, and Opportunities

Venue: Rangapoopathi College of Nursing Campus

Date: February 19th 2019

Starting Time: 10.00 am

Introduction:

On February 19th 2019, Sri Rangapoopathi College of Nursing organized a seminar titled "Nursing Research: Exploring Trends, Challenges and Opportunities." The seminar aimed to provide a platform for nurses, nursing students, educators, and researchers to explore the latest trends, challenges, and opportunities in nursing research and evidence-based practice.

Objectives:

- i. To discuss emerging trends and developments in nursing research, including advancements in methodologies, technologies, and interdisciplinary collaborations.
- ii. To identify challenges and barriers encountered in nursing research, such as funding constraints, ethical considerations, and recruitment issues, and explore strategies for overcoming them.
- iii. To highlight opportunities for nursing research to address pressing healthcare issues, improve patient outcomes, and inform nursing practice and policy.
- iv. To promote the importance of evidence-based practice and research utilization in nursing education, clinical practice, and healthcare delivery.

Event Highlights:

1. Keynote Addresses and Expert Presentations:

- Renowned nursing researchers, scholars, and practitioners delivered keynote addresses and expert presentations on various aspects of nursing research, including current trends, methodologies, and innovations.
- Presentations covered topics such as quantitative and qualitative research methods, evidence synthesis, nursing informatics, and translational research.

2. Panel Discussions and Roundtable Sessions:

- Panel discussions and roundtable sessions provided opportunities for interdisciplinary dialogue and knowledge-sharing among participants on key issues and challenges in nursing research.

- Topics included research ethics, data management, dissemination strategies, and the integration of research findings into nursing practice and education.

3. Research Workshops and Skill-building Sessions:

- Workshops and skill-building sessions offered practical guidance and training on various aspects of the research process, such as research design, data collection, analysis, and interpretation.
- Participants had the opportunity to learn about research tools, software applications, and resources for conducting and disseminating nursing research.

4. Poster Presentations and Research Showcases:

- Nursing students, faculty, and researchers showcased their research projects and findings through poster presentations and research exhibits.
- Participants had the chance to engage with presenters, ask questions, and learn about innovative research initiatives and findings in diverse nursing specialties and settings.

5. Networking and Collaboration Opportunities:

- Networking sessions provided opportunities for participants to connect with peers, mentors, and potential collaborators in the field of nursing research.
- Collaboration opportunities with academic institutions, healthcare organizations, funding agencies, and professional associations were explored to support interdisciplinary research partnerships and initiatives.

Conclusion: The seminar on Nursing Research: Exploring Trends, Challenges and Opportunities by Sri Rangapoopathi College of Nursing was a valuable forum for advancing knowledge, collaboration, and innovation in nursing research and evidence-based practice. Through keynote addresses, expert presentations, workshops, and networking opportunities, participants gained valuable insights, skills, and resources to contribute to the advancement of nursing science and practice.

Acknowledgments: We extend our sincere gratitude to all participants, speakers, sponsors, volunteers, and partners who contributed to the success of the seminar. Special thanks to the organizing committee for their dedication and leadership in planning and coordinating this important event.

Report on Advanced Cardiac Life Support (ACLS) On 25th March 2019

No of Participants: 50 (2nd year B.SC Nursing)

On March 25, 2019, a vital and informative seminar on "Advanced Cardiac Life Support (ACLS)" was conducted. The primary goal of this seminar was to provide healthcare professionals and nursing students with advanced knowledge and skills required for effective life-saving interventions during cardiac emergencies.

The programme was inaugurated in the presence of Thiru. R. Rangapoopathi, the Chairman of Sri Rangapoopathi Group of Institutions, Thiru. R P Sripathi, The Secretary of Sri Rangapoopathi Group of Institutions, Mrs. Kanagalakshmi Principal Sri Rangapoopathi college of Nursing, HODs, Staff and 2nd year Bsc. Nursing students

The seminar featured highly skilled ACLS instructors who brought their extensive experience in advanced cardiac life support to the event. The seminar provided attendees with hands-on training in cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR), defibrillation, and airway management. Attendees learned the administration of medications during cardiac emergencies, focusing on dosages and timing.

Realistic simulation scenarios allowed participants to practice ACLS skills in a controlled environment, enhancing their ability to respond to cardiac events. Detailed discussions on ACLS algorithms, including ventricular fibrillation, pulseless ventricular tachycardia, and bradycardia, were conducted.

The seminar equipped healthcare professionals and nursing students with advanced skills and knowledge, enabling them to respond effectively during cardiac emergencies. The seminar not only improved the participants' competence but also contributed to the promotion of better patient outcomes in life-threatening cardiac situations.

REPORT of Medication Administration Safety Workshop

Venue: Promoting Mental Health and Well-being

Date: June 14th 2019

Starting Time: 10.00 am

Introduction:

On June 14th 2019, Sri Rangapoopathi College of Nursing organized a Medication Administration Safety Workshop aimed at enhancing the knowledge, skills, and practices of nursing students and healthcare professionals in medication administration to ensure patient safety and prevent medication errors. The workshop provided participants with comprehensive education, hands-on training, and best practices to improve medication administration practices in clinical settings.

Objectives:

- i. To review the principles of medication safety, including the "Five Rights" of medication administration: right patient, right medication, right dose, right route, and right time.
- ii. To identify common medication errors and risk factors contributing to medication errors in clinical practice.
- iii. To explore evidence-based strategies and interventions for preventing medication errors and promoting medication safety.
- iv. To provide participants with practical skills and techniques for safe medication administration, including medication calculation, medication reconciliation, and medication administration documentation.

Event Highlights:

1. Lectures and Presentations:

- Expert speakers, including pharmacists, medication safety officers, and nursing educators, delivered lectures and presentations on various aspects of medication safety.
- Topics covered included medication reconciliation, high-alert medications, medication administration routes, medication interactions, and error reporting.

2. Case Studies and Interactive Discussions:

- Case studies and interactive discussions were used to illustrate real-life medication error scenarios and facilitate problem-solving and critical thinking among participants.
- Participants analyzed case studies, identified potential causes of medication errors, and discussed strategies for preventing errors and improving medication safety practices.

3. Hands-on Training and Skill-building Sessions:

- Hands-on training and skill-building sessions provided participants with opportunities to practice medication calculation, dosage measurement, and medication administration techniques.
- Participants engaged in simulation exercises and role-plays to simulate medication administration scenarios and demonstrate proficiency in safe medication practices.

4. Medication Administration Equipment Showcase:

- A showcase of medication administration equipment and technology was organized to familiarize participants with medication administration devices, such as syringe pumps, IV infusion pumps, and medication dispensing systems.
- Participants had the opportunity to learn about equipment features, operation, maintenance, and safety precautions from equipment vendors and experts.

5. Collaborative Learning and Peer Support:

- Collaborative learning activities, such as group discussions, peer teaching, and team-based exercises, promoted knowledge-sharing and peer support among participants.
- Participants shared their experiences, best practices, and challenges in medication administration and learned from each other's insights and perspectives.

Conclusion: The Medication Administration Safety Workshop by Sri Rangapoopathi College of Nursing provided participants with valuable knowledge, skills, and resources to enhance medication safety practices and prevent medication errors in clinical settings.

Acknowledgments: We extend our sincere appreciation to all participants, speakers, instructors, sponsors, and partners who contributed to the success of the Medication Administration Safety Workshop. Special thanks to the organizing committee for their dedication and efforts in planning and coordinating this important educational event.
